count on our expertise, every step of the way...

We are proud of our ability to assist our customers with everything they need to get their products to market quickly, easily and safely. Our range of additional services include Consultancy, Statistical Analysis, Marketing and Microbiology. We continually expand our service portfolio, delivering custom services on request. We tailor design your study to provide effective research every time. Advanced technology services generate data with efficiency.

With a wealth of experience in conducting consumer trials we offer a comprehensive consultancy service with support at every stage of your product's development. We can advise on the best way to design your study to achieve the maximum benefit from it. At the end of a study, we can help you understand the results and to plan the next stages of your development programme. Our specialist team of consultants include:

-  Dermatologists
-  Paediatric Dermatologist
-  Gynaecologist
-  Dentist
-  Ophthalmologists
-  Chiropodist
-  Trichologist
-  Microbiologists
-  Statisticians / Analysts

We offer wide-ranging analytical services as part of our study packages. Having statistical analysis performed on study data enhances your understanding and visualisation of it, allowing you to progress the development of your product efficiently.
